4K-6th Student of the Week:

Adrian Smith, parents are Alex and Amber Smith. Adrian earns this honor for his eagerness to learn and participate in class. He is always paying attention, asking questions, and giving answers. It makes it clear that Adrian wants to do his best and make the most of his 3rd grade year. On top of his classroom attitude, Adrian is a nice kid. His classmates and I enjoy having him in class. Congratulations on being student of the week!

Battle of the Books Final Battle of the Year!

The Spring Battle of the Books Kahoot went great. We had 9 teams, 7 classes, and 27 students with each team (hopefully) reading the 11 books for this spring contest. Thanks to you all for your collaborative spirit and can-do attitude. Especially thanks to Mrs. Burns for her encouragement and push for diverse reads. So many positives this year! Drum roll please....

High School and Middle School Students of the Week:

Elijah Shrum, 8th grader is our Middle School Laker of the Week. Elijah is the son of Mark Shrum and Cassandra and Ben Peterson. A character trait that really stands out with Elijah is respectful. His spanish teacher said, "Elijah is a respectful young man who pushes himself outside of his comfort zone in order to get the job done. He communicates well and is a steady presence in class. Way to go, Elijah!" Ms. Schunk had a similar comment, "Elijah is a respectful young man who works hard to keep an open communication with his teachers." Having this level of maturity is encouraging coming into his freshman year! Mrs. Kevan remarked, "Elijah is very polite and has grown as a student in math this year." His science teacher said, "I appreciate how Elijah compliments others. He is loyal, and has a heart for others." Way to show the Laker Spirit, Elijah!

Chad Harrington, Junior is our High School Laker of the Week. Chad is the son of Jack Harrington and Jolene Harrington. Chad is a model student in many ways. Mrs. Carlson shared, "Chad Harrington is a student that will push himself to achieve high academic goals. Some of his strongest character traits are being a kind, caring, honest gentleman. He is the kind of person that is sought after by employers. I'm so glad I have had the honor of being a part of his educationaladventure." Mrs. Kunselman agrees, "It's always a pleasure to have a conversation with Chad. He's a genuinely kind and respectful person, with a quiet determination and consistency that is demonstrated through his hard work." "Chad is so very pleasant and sincere. He always has a smile on his face and is nice to everyone!" said Ms. Everson. Chad is a leader in the SL FFA, the Advisor Mrs. Bos said, "Chad is easy going, has a good attitude, is respectful and a great role model." Mrs. Klein appreciates that Chad is often others centered, "I have seen Chad befriend and offer academic and social support to students who get overlooked by their peers. Chad notices and he makes intentional efforts to be inclusive and kind. This character trait is one of maturity and such value in all aspects of life. "Way to show the Laker Spirit, Chad!!
