PK-6 Laker of the Week

Our PK-6 student of the week is Brycen Allen, 6th Grade. He is the son of William Allen and Deanna Allen. Brycen is a fantastic example of a student who consistently comes to school to learn, be a good friend, and find success. He works hard in every class, helps his peers who may be struggling without being asked, follows the LAKER way, and always has a positive attitude. He is just an all-around AMAZING person. ~Mrs. Burns

Unconditional Love

As adults sometimes we forget what it feels like to be a kid, all the hurts and struggles they have each day that we see as minimal but are big in their eyes. So today I ask that we all try to remember that being a kid seems carefree from our adult perspective but "little" things can be pretty big in their eyes.

A friend saying mean things about them may just be interpersonal conflict and normal disagreements but kids need help knowing how to find compromises, forgive and apologize. And above all, they need to know that you love them no matter what is happening with their friendships.

Sometimes a cut on the knee feels like a big deal - remember they have only lived a few years and these are their first bumps and scrapes. They may just need some reassurance that everyone gets hurt and it will get better soon. (The magic of a bandaid is the comfort and love that comes along with it).

Kids have big emotions but they don't often know how to express them or name those feelings. You can help them talk through it and figure out what has made them feel this way. Your unconditional love makes all the difference!

WORD OF THE WEEK
The word "integrate" means to make whole by combining the different parts into one.
