

March Wellness:

The month of March, we are focusing on decreasing our screen time. Too much screen time can lead to:

- Obesity
- Irregular Sleep Schedule
- Behavioral Problems
- Impaired Academic Performance
- Less Time for Play

SHELL LAKE STUDENTS OF THE WEEK

Our Shell Lake Elementary student of the week is Jack Boarman. Jack comes to STEAM every week with joy for learning! He is an expert problem solver and has amazing ideas for every building challenge. Jack's kindness toward others and willingness to help others is contagious. Way to go Jack!

Our Shell Lake Middle School student of the week is Rachel Odden. Rachel gives consistent effort in the classroom on a regular basis, is kind to her peers, and participates in class in a variety of ways. Her teachers appreciate her positive contribution to the classroom environment. Keep up the great work, Rachel!

The student of the week for Shell Lake High School is Kara Dahlstrom. Kara is always dedicated to accuracy and isn't afraid to go all in with her school projects and assignments. She demonstrates a high level of perseverance, and is a hard working, focused, and positive presence in class and school activities. She also makes sure to ask questions to double check her process of learning, holding herself accountable. We appreciate your drive and independence Kara!

CONGRATULATIONS LAKERS!

A colorful poster for 'Child Development Day 2026'. The title is in large, bold, blue and yellow letters. Below it, the date 'MARCH 21' and time '9a-12p' are shown. The central image depicts three diverse children (two girls and one boy) sitting on a large blue pencil that is shaped like a roller coaster track. The pencil has 'SHELL LAKE ELEMENTARY' written on its side. At the bottom, the text 'ALL SHELL LAKE SCHOOL DISTRICT CHILDREN 0-5 YR' is displayed. Further down, it lists 'COMMUNITY RESOURCES', 'BIG TRUCKS', and 'DEVELOPMENTAL SCREENINGS'. The Shell Lake Lakers logo is in the bottom right corner.
